Panel Stories: Public Lies & Private Lives in Paneláks and Sídlištěs

As the documentary shows as it details the total collapse of this housing project to the point where the police were afraid to enter and the tower blocks ended up being dynamited, this fate was largely pre-ordained. .

Polymers Polymeric self-assemblies driven by XB have also been studied in parallel to LC dimers, trimers, and polymers built up from mono- and bidentate low molecular weight starting compounds. While European experiences of public and social housing have not been as extreme as Pruitt-Igoe, the problems of housing estates such as Park Hill in Sheffield and Robin Hood Gardens in London, as well as many of the French banlieues can similarly not be blamed on their modernist or, too-often, modernish architecture, nor on the social intentions that inspired their construction.
