French for Toddlers: ours brun, dis

The children are really learning the songs well and I was amazed how much of them they all joined in with. Ne le laissons pas disparaître.

Ours Brun, dis

See last week's toddler session post for the lyrics and actions. For our craft this week, we made some fabulous rocking birds made from folded paper plates.

French for Toddlers: ours brun, dis

I'm sure you are all familiar with this cheerful sounding tune, which lends itself to actions and is therefore very attractive to toddlers and pre-schoolers - needless to say we didn't dwell too much on what exactly we were planning to do to these poor little birds!! Auteur s : Martin Bill ; Carle Eric. Il part à la recherche de son ami le souriceau, quand soudain, il entend un grand bruit. To make your own, you will need: a paper plate, collage materials, googly eyes, feathers thin ribbon, glue Firstly, fold the paper plate in half.
