The Protocol and Regulation may not protect EU institutions against disclosure requests from third-country governments and processors subject to their jurisdiction. For Office 365 services, Microsoft committed to store only the Exchange Online mailbox content, the SharePoint Online site content and files uploaded to OneDrive for Business in the EU.

Institutions of the European Union

The first, most protected, category of personal data was data provided through the use of so-called online services. These study areas will augment our ongoing research initiatives into: Due Diligence in IM, Setting Global Standards for Professional Firms and finally providing an evidence-driven approach to demonstrating the financial inflow into a country of IM programmes. This report aims to give readers insight into the strategic uptake of digitalisation, its impact and challenges in various areas of institutional life, expectations for the future, as well as changes accelerated by the current pandemic.

The powers and responsibilities of all of these institutions are laid down in the Treaties, which are the foundation of everything the EU does. Yet, the Advocate General Saugmandsgaard Øe has recently underlined the need for controllers to ensure the protection of personal data, not only after they arrive in a third country, but after the transfer has been initiated, thus also during transit.

Outcome of own

The protection offered to EU institutions by the Protocol does not end simply because they rely on an external provider for certain services. Third, EU institutions faced a number of linked issues concerning data location, international transfers and the risk of unlawful disclosure of data. The EDPS recommended that EU institutions seek the clarity and assurances allowing them to keep data subjects properly informed.

ENNHRI

In principle, the Commission proposes new laws, and the Parliament and Council adopt them. The European Union is an international body governed by an internal system that follows the guidelines of participatory democracy. Controllers are required to implement technical and organisational measures to ensure data protection by design and by default and to meet their duty of accountability.
