Writings from the New Yorker : 1927

In putting together this collection, I tried to imagine how E. Be-cause Notes and Comment was an editorial column, White had to follow magazine policy of using we instead of I.

We know a man who received a birthday present of a nice little azalea.

View of the World from 9th Avenue

We had summertime practically to ourself the other afternoon, and in our guilt we lay with her in the name of all who were temporarily denied that privilege, admiring her incredible poise.

Writings from the New Yorker: 1925

It is a westward view from 9th Avenue.

White's essays have appeared in Harper's magazine, and some of his other books are: One Man's Meat, The Second Tree from the Corner, Letters of E. Pretty soon the word got around and other sparrows of both sexes showed up, the ladies to admire, the men to jeer. The work presents what View of the World might look like if one had relied upon the September 2012 version of Apple Maps to locate various landmarks.
