Trails & Scenic Outlooks

Getting ready for the Dune Climb! The moderately challenging trail winds through a section of the park known as Bow Lakes -- a geologically distinct area featuring kettle lakes formed by melting ice when glaciers retreated from the region. Hiking trails on the dunes are marked by blue-tipped posts.

Hiking Trails

Check your clothes and any exposed skin frequently for ticks. Also shown is the beach access trail. When it comes to lakes here, Lake Michigan tends to steal the show, and for good reason.

Sleeping Bear Dunes vacation: 50 unforgettable things to see and do

The north section is located north of Glen Arbor and includes beautiful Good Harbor Bay as well as the towering dune known as Pyramid Point and the Port Oneida Historic District. Sleeping Bear Dunes map from the official brochure Here is the main Sleeping Bear Dunes map which shows the points of interest on the mainland as well as the Manitou Islands. What people are saying about this hike This is a really nice and quiet trail! Keep following this road until you see a sign for the dune climb.

Sleeping Bear Dunes Maps

Each trail has a trailhead with a parking area. US-31 passes closest to the Lakeshore at the little town of Honor about three miles from the south end of the park. Hiking trail through autumn-hued trees.

In areas that are prone to flooding, there may be certain measures taken to keep the trail navigable, such as small boardwalks. Click the image to view a full size JPG 1.

The Best Cross

From there, you can continue on to the crystal clear water. If you have the time we really recommend doing the full loop though.
