Mathematics, peace and ethics

As a large spoiler literature has detailed, peace processes can also lead to group fragmentation ; over policy preferences, leadership disputes, and disputes over strategy.

Mathematics, peace and ethics

The most important of these commitments are credible assurances of legal and personal security for combatants willing to demobilize. Scholars have yet to provide conclusive answers to these questions; while compliance is observed in many circumstances, most scholars attribute observed restraint to factors other than international law. Scholarship on compliance with the laws of war in interstate wars has made considerable progress over the past decade.

Conduct and Consequences of War

Essays on probability and statistics. Thus, war termination does not follow strictly from battle trends.

One Dyadic Peace Leads to Another? Conflict Systems, Terminations, and Net Reduction in Fighting Groups

If Gent is correct, biased intervention should be most likely when the power ratio between government and rebel forces is close to parity, a factor which, if ignored, may bias the results of these analyses. While research on conflict severity is still developing, these studies suggest that democracy, military strength, and strategy are consistent predictors of conflict severity, although the mechanisms posited for the effects of these variables sometimes differ between civil and interstate war.
