Politics is meant to help people to realize their fullest potential, not merely to enable the powerful to trample over the powerless in the scramble to control the resources of the land.

Fuyard

Meanwhile, the Church remained silent as the new ruling coalition crumbled under the weight of a pre-election memorandum of understanding that the President refused to honour following the 2002 General Election, allegations of grand corruption and other signs that the new government was not really committed to a new way of managing the country. Nor are we saying that history must not be informed by theory or ideology.

Record Citations

This petition was similarly opposed by the Attorney General based on the following grounds: 1. In appropriate circumstances, for example where the President took actions in violation of the Constitution and also destructive to the nation, any person could invoke the jurisdiction of the court and sue the President whether in his person or official capacity. The letter was faxed directly to Moi at Harambee House and it was carried as an open letter by the People Newspaper of Sunday, September 2, 2001.

BOMB remains a noble cause; results have yet to come. According to the Senate, the issues raised in the consolidated Petitions are non-justiciable and offend the principle of justiciability; the consolidated Petitions do not disclose infringement or threat of infringement of any right; that the orders sought are defective and that the Court lacks jurisdiction to grant orders as framed and the Court should exercise judicial restraint.
