Management

Composed in 1950 for a brass band contest, the work has been used for a range of different contests including the prestigious National Brass Band Championships of Great Britain. The enthusiasm shown at a public meeting about the Resurgam led to the organisation of the SUBMAP project by Martin Dean and the ADU. She was powered by a closed system steam engine patented by Eugene Lamm in 1872, this provided steam to turn the single screw for up to four hours.
