I first came across it in my late twenties and, having returned to it in later life, have been astonished to find that it has lost none of its power or relevance to the 21st century -- quite the opposite if anything. Merton, under the supervision of the author. His lecture subjects included Neoplatonic doctrines; the application of ancient history and religious texts to racial problems; pollution and war; and a radical reinterpretation of the Bible in light of Egyptology.
