How to obtain a trademark registration in the UK?

As the recovery of legal costs in the IPEC is capped, the successful party may recover up to £50,000 for the liability stage but often the awarded costs are less. In the Mercury Communications case 1995 FSR 850 Laddie J, said: In my view it is thoroughly undesirable that a trader who is in one limited area of computer software should, by registration, obtain a statutory monopoly of indefinite duration covering all types of software, including those far removed from his own area of interest. You can renew the brand from 6 months before its expiry.

After working with Albright for 6 years, I am happy with their work and I have no reason to change companies.

UK Trade Mark Application procedure

Be noted that applicants from outside the United Kingdom need a trademark agent to represent them at the UK Intellectual Property Office.
