The Woman Reader in the 19th Century Britain

The article therefore seeks to analyze the narrative functions of denoting sounds produced by clothing in the nineteenth-century French novel.

Reconstructing Woman: From Fiction to Reality in the Nineteenth

French literature researcher Jean Louis Robert goes even further and claims that for the Goncourt brothers les frères Goncourt this sonorous elegance typifies the Parisian attitude which is perceived, in their eyes, as the embodiment of charm and chic. Oxford: Oxford University Press, 1993. Most significantly, these novels intersperse their prose with photographs and paintings.
