worldwide, at least 1,200 occur in Africa. The 2015 version has all the features the Stuart's are well known for.

Field Guide to Mammals of Southern Africa (Field Guide To... by Chris Stuart

It is excellent value for money I have both is version and the UPDATED version from 2015.

The Stuart's have continued to improve their excellent guide.

Southern Africa

Through full-colour photographs and distribution maps, and easy-to-read text, the beginner and budding naturalist will be able to identify the more common mammal species found in southern Africa, discover where they live, and learn about their unique feeding and breeding habits. This new edition has been extensively revised, expanded and redesigned and includes: the most recent research and taxonomy, revised distribution maps and many new images, colour-coded grouping of orders, size icons, detailed descriptions of each species, offering insight into key identification characters, typical behaviour, preferred habitat, food choice, reproduction and longevity, whales and dolphins now featured too. The 43 featured reserves are arranged by province.

Stuarts' Field Guide to Mammals of Southern Africa: Fully Revised and Expanded

Full-color images, informative text, detailed maps, highlights, best visiting times plus pictorial ID guide to commonly seen animals. This revised and updated edition incorporates the latest information brought to light by molecular genetics, while remaining accessible to the layperson and handy in the field.

Field Guide to Mammals of Southern Africa: Stuart, Chris, Stuart, Tilde: 9781853680151: ne-x.uni.rf.gd: Books

The book covers the lower third of the continent, south from Angola, Zambia, Malawi and Mozambique. I find it easier to use a book as my initial information source when trying to work out an ID, largely so I can flick more quickly between photos of candidate species and slowly go insane trying to decide. Coverage of a broad range of subjects including: art, culture, economy, history, politics, religion, society, and important persons, places, events and movements.
