It arose first in England and later on diffused to other countries of Western Europe like France, Germany aided by French Revolution. The Quebec separatism in Canada, Balochistan movement in Pakistan, Uighur issue in China, Catalan nationalism in Spain are the living examples of nationalism being questioned and endangered by intra- national forces. Colonialism carried out the political, administrative, economic and communication unification of India.

Socio-biological Theory of Nationalism This theory considers nationalism as emotional attachments of a group of people who identify with and agree on a common descent. The BREXIT or exit of Britain from the European Union and the exit of United States from 2015 Paris Accord of the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change on grounds of national interests reveal the relevance and resilience of the ideology of nationalism. The environmental problems like climate change, acid rain, ozone depletion have been caused by factors within the nation but the consequences and remedies are transnational and beyond the capacity of nationalism and national States to solve.

The barriers between and among nations are being undermined by the onward march of globalization. Succinctly to state, the continent of Europe from being the cradle of nationalism has become the beacon of globalism. Indians learned modern political ideas like liberty, equality, sovereignty in the classrooms and demanded that our motherland should be empowered with those modern political values.
