What Will Happen to Earth in the Next Billion Years?

CLEO: Science and Innovations: CTh5D—9. Roughly 200 million years ago, Pangaea was the last iteration of this recurring supercontinent 1.

The next million years : Darwin, Charles Galton, Sir, 1887

The planets of the Solar System will almost certainly not be disturbed by these events. On his retirement, his attention turned to issues of population, and. Indeed, earlier this month, astronomers observed the second ever interstellar object hurtling through our own solar system.

What will humans look like in a million years?

These enhancements, the Harvard researcher said in a recent TED talk, would help human settlers to survive on distant planets One example is Einstein's theory of general relativity, Professor Greene said. Many animals may be driven to the poles or possibly underground.

Charles Galton Darwin

It is one thing to predict the existence of these crazy orbits, so very different from what we see in the Solar System. The theory of evolution is an essential core to UNESCO United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization. In 1,000 years from now, merging with technology might be for humanity to compete with Artificial Intelligence.

How Humans Will Evolve Over the Next Million Years

Humans could also have united all theoretical equations to create a 'unified theory' that will give us an unprecedented understanding of our universe.
