She previously held curatorial positions at the Hammer Museum, Los Angeles County Museum of Art, the Fine Arts Museums of San Francisco, and the Johnson Museum of Art, Cornell University. Several years after her death in 1934, the University of Oregon took custody of her photographs, proofs, and glass-plate negatives. This small, portable device made nude photography in secluded parks and other semi-public places easier, and represented a great advance for amateur erotica.

Some sites include multimedia presentations, virtual tours, and webcams. The Fauves were the most controversial artists in Paris, and of all their paintings, Woman with a Hat was the most notorious.

California Historical Society Collection, 1860

Included are photographs, paintings, sculptures, engravings, artifacts, banners, and broadsides that were central to the debate and the formation of the antislavery movement.

She received her BA and MA in art history from the University of California at Santa Barbara and her PhD from Columbia University, New York, with a dissertation on Albert Renger-Patzsch. In the more than 30 years between his acrimonious departure and her death, brother and sister never spoke again. The photographs in this online exhibit represent seminal events and everyday life in America throughout the 20th century.
