In his opening address the Vicar of Bradford, the Rev.

Plan

A water mill at Great Horton is also documented in 1545 Cudworth 1886, p173. They had powers to pave, clean and light the streets. London: Routledge and Kegan Paul.

Sadly, as the parent project has now ended, Bolton Revisited can no longer accept contributions or enter into correspondence. Conditions continued to deteriorate, and in 1842 Bolton was involved in the Plug Drawing Riots, bands of rioters pulling the plugs out of boilers causing costly and crippling damage to factory machinery. He purchased the Bolton House estate although he never resided there.

Bolton and Undercliffe

When Edward VI became King in 1547, Marsh's study of the New Testament led to his appointment as a preaching minister.
