WWII British Uniforms Guide: British Army

When soon after Guderian's formidable tank army managed to follow the Somme to the west, the huge German claw around Belgium was almost shut tight.

Jan Vincx

It was fixed at one Belga to 5 francs and was suspended during the war. However, for at least two years after Pearl Harbor, it was common to see American troops wearing the early model. These units did not simply leave Zeeuws-Vlaanderen; they stole everything they could find of any value.

German occupation of Belgium during World War II

Note further, the chap on the left has MkIII quick relase ammunition pouches - these are more post war, but were seen wartime Walking Out and Parade On parade, a GS cap which looks like a cow pat , webbing belt, bayonet and frog, and gaiters were worn.
