

Speeches and interviews on world problems, 1957.

Foreign Language Pub. House - Eisenhower Sputnik Conference Memo

Description: -

-

Soviet Union -- Foreign relations -- 1945-

World politics -- 1955-Speeches and interviews on world problems, 1957.

-Speeches and interviews on world problems, 1957.

Notes: Translation of Za prochnyi mir i miroe sosushchestvovanie (transliterated).

This edition was published in 1958

Filesize: 58.75 MB

Tags: #NATO #Speech: #1957

Listening to People

Of course, some of us underline our differences, but the greatest of them is as nothing compared with what we have in common. Subconsciously, B decides to sandwich a few thoughts of his own into the aural ones that are arriving so slowly. The NATO machinery proved to be sufficiently flexible to conduct and follow up these consultations without causing any delay.

Eisenhower Sputnik Conference Memo

The decision of the Supreme Court concerning school integration, of course, affects the South more seriously than it does other sections of the country. Unless they rid their minds of what is unsound, intellectuals cannot shoulder the task of educating others.

Eisenhower Sputnik Conference Memo

Already it has been proved that a Joint policy can perfectly well be worked out and that the system of prior consultation in all frankness and loyalty is not an added complication, but, on the contrary, makes things easier. In order to have a real grasp of Marxism, one must learn it not only from books, but chiefly through class struggle, through practical work and close contact with the masses of workers and peasants.

(1957) Dwight Eisenhower, "Address on Little •

Indeed, he can hardly avoid doing this because over the years the process has become a strong aural habit of his. These great changes in our social system are reflected differently among people of different classes, strata and social groups. Thus will be restored the image of America and of all its parts as one nation, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

NATO Speech: 1957

If over a period of several five-year plans a fairly large number of our intellectuals accept Marxism and acquire a fairly good grasp of it through practice, through their work and life, through class struggle, production and scientific activity, that will be fine. But the first steps must be taken by top management people. Nor are the troops there for the purpose of taking over the responsibility of the School Board and the other responsible local officials in running Central High School.

Related Books

- Perejaume - landscapes and long distances.
- Kensington - particulars and conditions of sale of a delightful residence ... no. 25, Upper Phillimo
- Tripurā āinera bhāshya
- Vingt et un contes
- Genealogical record of John Wilson - descendents, 1784-1983