It would be wise however, by timely provisions, to guard against those acts of our own citizens which might tend to disturb it and to put ourselves in a condition to give satisfaction to foreign nations which we may sometimes have occasion to require from them. When Thomas Jefferson was inaugurated in March of 1801, he inherited troubled relations with the Barbary states — the Ottoman Regencies of Algiers, Tunis, and Tripoli, along with independent Morocco. Patterson, and a letter concerns Philip S.

JEFFERSON, Thomas

The following year, once the U. In November 1784, he doubted the American people would be willing to pay annual tribute.

JEFFERSON, Thomas

Author gets his facts straight and introduces a new character into the story, the Dutch consul in Tripoli.

JEFFERSON, Thomas

We prefer trying ever other just principles, right and safety, before we would recur to war. Eaton begged me to come to Syracuse to confer with your Excellency
