The main organizations that sponsor vintage racing are the AHRMA , and WERA Motorcycle Roadracing, which has several vintage classes along with modern racers. Riders at the AMA Flat Track Grand Championship traditionally compete in all types of flat track races, with the overall class winners crowned national champions. There are vintage events for almost every type of racing listed above, vintage motocross and road racing are especially popular.

Flat Track Racing

In sidecar racing a rider and a passenger work together to make the machine perform optimally; the way in which a passenger shifts body weight across the sidecar is crucial to its performance around corners. Metal tire spikes or screws are often allowed to improve traction.

Flat Track Racing

Whether that account is actually true is irrelevant because motorcycle racing is ever evolving, with new models and rules changes spawning disciplines spanning the past century as specific and unique as the very machines homologated for use in domestic and international competition. Due to the few modifications required of the showroom—generally, wheels, tires and suspension—DTX bikes are the most popular models in the discipline today.

Motorcycle Racing

From entry-level club racers, all the way to past, present, and future champions, the best racers on the planet have taken the grid at WERA events.
