35 Inspirational Quotes On Thoughts

I believe many have apprehended so; but it is an entire mistake, if we may give credit to those who have lived many years therein, and could have no motive to misrepresent it. This also is striking wide; and is never likely to procure any redress for the sore evil we complain of. A third instance happened in Charles-Town, in the presence of a person now residing there.

From George Washington to Bryan Fairfax, 20 July 1774

They are told that they are made brethren of the whites, and shall go to heaven; but they hardly know how to believe the Europeans should conduct them to heaven, whilst they are, they say, the cause of all their sufferings on earth. And before they are suffered to go to their quarters, they have commonly something to do, as collecting herbage for the horses, or gathering fuel for the boilers; so that it is often past twelve before they can get home.

Beveridge, William, 1637

We set up rooms for all kinds of specific purposes in our homes. Although their efficacy is questionable, their high mercury content provided an excellent tracer by which archaeologists have been able to track the corps' actual route to the Pacific.

Thoughts upon the African Slave Trade

They were no way remarkable for stupidity while they remained in their own country: The inhabitants of Africa, where they have equal motives and equal means of improvement, are not inferior to the inhabitants of Europe; to some of them they are greatly superior.
