European Conference on Electrics versus Hydraulics versus Pneumatics : 22 October 1985, 1 Birdcage Walk, Westminster, London, SW1

He gave an account of the Mill to the Institution in 1876.

Bulletin of the Institution of Hydraulics at the Royal Institute of Technology, Stockholm, Sweden

Whilst at the Blaenavon Iron Works, he became associated with the Thomas-Gilchrist attempts to make a satisfactory metal from phosphoric ores. The company made its name with the Quadruplex Air Compressor, which Reavell had patented in 1899.

European Conference on Electrics versus Hydraulics versus Pneumatics : 22 October 1985, 1 Birdcage W...

He was associated with mechanized warfare, and was one of the pioneers of mechanical transport in the army. He was also actively involved with industrial labour relations, and served as a member of the UK Management Labour Delegation to the United States, and as British Representative on the Public Utilities Committee of the Combined Production and Resources Board in Washington.

European Conference on Electrics Versus Hydraulics Versus Pneumatics: 22 October 1985, 1 Birdcage Walk, Westminster, London, SW1 (IMEchE Conference Transactions) by No Author: Good (1985)

The War Office rejected the weapon, but many of its features became a standard for accurate small arms. His most important work was relating to the screw thread.

Electric versus hydraulic drives : 27 October 1983, 1 Birdcage Walk, Westminster, London / sponsored...

He was educated at Christ College, Finchley, and received his technical education privately.

Past Presidents of the Institution of Mechanical Engineers

His involvement with the IMechE led to the formation of the Midland Branch in Birmingham in 1923. He was also one of the first to experiment with shipbuilding in iron, and his shipyard at Millwall was the earliest iron-shipbuilding establishment of any great size in England.
