March 6

Across the Danforth and Medical campuses April 2020 — April 2021, university members hosted more than 500 events that sparked conversation, embraced our incredible diversity, and fostered coordinated action to advance equity and inclusion. As we continue to fully recover from this pandemic, Georgians deserve to get back to normal — and withdrawing from this unnecessary government program will incentivize more employees and businesses across our state to do so.

SAAM Day of Action

We ask what these challenges mean for us, as a community devoted to scholarship, the use of knowledge for the common good, and the ideals of equality, diversity, freedom, democracy, and justice. The approach and content has shifted each year to respond to the context, but the spirit holds constant: it is a vital opportunity for meaningful connection as we reflect upon our shared values, lived experiences, and learn how we can continue to build upon our commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion.
