Regional Conference on East African Societies and Security Ends —East African Legislative Assembly

This would constitute a clear distinction from other societies in which despots subjected the enslaved masses to special labours in which noble or aristocratic families took no part. This explains that slavery was a means of punishment or survival.

East African Community

This failed the development of connective internal revolutions that would have led to a Slave Mode of Production.

HISTORY I FORM FIVE: PRE COLONIAL AFRICAN SOCIETIES

Even feudal societies labour was not coercive as tenants willingly entered into relations with landlords who were always the rulers. Long distance trade across the Sahara stimulated the famous cities of the region such as Walata, Timbuktu, Gao and Jenne and spread enlightenment through Arabic literature and Islam. In some instances the helpless poor volunteered to be slaves in exchange for means of survival.
