Steve Raymond (Author of The Year of the Angler and the Year of the Trout)

I was fishing the east deep cut banks with no action, so I moved into the first nook of the morning and made a long cast in the vicinity of a brush pile. If you can steer an angler in a direction and watch them learn, and fail, and succeed, and move to a new level of skill during the trip; that is guiding success. There are a few things you can try that are drastically going to increase your chances at landing some of these beautiful fish.
