Housing in Europe

This is especially likely in EU countries that offer high LTV rates, as borrowers are pushed to their financial limits each month already.

WHO/Europe

While populations as a whole may not struggle to put a roof over their head, national statistics often hide huge differences in terms of how different income groups and geographic areas are impacted.

The European Union Support to Social Housing and Active Inclusion

Interventions will also include small scale infrastructure works in sub-standard settlements.

European Union House Index
