This checklist should also be used by Colleges to review current practice and provide Annual Quality Review panels with an additional tool in their process of review.

Student experience

International Journal of Project Management, Vol 26: pp 268-274. Although the University has defined credit in terms of workload 1 credit as being equal to a notional 10 hours of learning, it is recognised that many placement requirements are not so easily quantified. This access extends to manual records both existing and future including comments entered by examiners on scripts or on cover sheets.

Quality assurance for higher education franchising

A conceptual framework has been developed to address the research questions on the basis of a literature review.
