Domestic Violence: MedlinePlus

Your safety is the most important concern.

Domestic Violence

What are the signs that someone is a victim of domestic violence? Contact local organizations that can help you.

Domestic Violence: MedlinePlus

You should talk about your concerns with your loved one, but you need to understand that they may not be ready to talk about it. Let them know that you're available to talk at any time, and that you will listen without judging them. Domestic violence is a type of abuse.

MCADSV

Your loved one's partner may have access to his or her cell phone or computer, so be careful about sharing information over text or email. Think about a safe place for you to go and all of the things that you will need when you leave. You can also select a region below to search the service providers in your area.

Domestic Violence Coordinating Council (DVCC)

Make sure that it is in a safe place the abuser cannot access. OVW does not provide services directly to the general public. Our Services Find services in your area Click on the Missouri map, which is broken out in regions, to search for service providers in your area.
