"Ultimately it's about sovereignty. It's about protecting the sovereignty of individuals and ensuring they have full control over their own data. In this field Europe has acted from a position of common strength. And that's what makes it special."	Ursula von der Leyen, European Commission President, Speech, 8/11/2019.
"Digital sovereignty means allowing the use of data from European citizens and the use of digital technologies only when our standards are fulfilled"	Axel Voss, MEP (EPP, Germany), Twitter, 18/1/2020.
"Europe must protect its digital sovereignty. We need to develop a third-European-way of digitalisation, based on our values."	Axel Voss, MEP (EPP, Germany), Twitter, 18/1/2020.
"The question is how can we work with very good industries without being impacted by the CLOUD Act?"	Guillaume Pousard, Chief Cybersecurity Official, France, quoted in Politico, 22/2/2020.
"We also need to be sure that we protect our citizens against U.S. regulation with extraterritorial applications. The CLOUD Act is a risk for us. There's no debate about this. Other U.S. regulations are considered risks too."	Guillaume Pousard - Chief Cybersecurity Official, France, quoted in Politico, 22/2/2020.
"Digital sovereignty is about being able to control what we are doing. Not to do everything by ourselves or being completely independent. But to have the final say about what is ongoing here in order to maintain our regulatory sovereignty!"	Margrethe Vestager, Speech at CESPE event on "Digital sovereignty in the age of pandemic", 24/4/2020.
