Indicator 6: Freshwater

While a trip to the beach may always be dependent on our unique Scottish summer, beachgoers can have confidence that our bathing waters are being constantly monitored and their quality ensured. Furthermore, in a changing climate, we all need to play our part to allow Scotland to tackle this challenge. All funding provided by WEF must comply with State Aid rules.

Scotland's freshwater

A range of pressures contribute to this, from water quality problems arising from discharges of and running into rivers from agricultural land and urban areas, to , and the presence on.
