Stella clericorum

The Stella Clericorum, a medieval manual for pastoral care in the Catholic Church, was written by an anonymous author in the early 13 th century, in the wake of the Gregorian reforms, which placed greater responsibilities on the clergy. Karen Scheib: Modeling Care through Compassion, Challenge, and Creativity Professor of Pastoral Care and Pastoral Theology Karen D. The text is based on the works of the Saints Bernard of Clairvaux and Augustine.

Cambridge, Corpus Christi College, MS 500: Theological and Devotional Tracts.

We also offer here fine editions from the publishing house Pindar Press, which focus on the History of Art, Printing and Archaeology.

Stella clericorum

An analytical mind paired with a heart for relationships has helped make Kraffchick a beloved professor, valued colleague, and enthusiastic collaborator throughout both Candler and Emory for nearly four decades. The work includes manuscript annotations throughout, inscribed by an early owner.

A Tribute to Retiring Faculty

In the work, Raymond declares that the book of nature and the Bible are both Divine revelations, both accessible to humankind. Garantiscono l'autenticità di tutti gli articoli messi in vendita.
