But, by contrast with Kenya, the international community has not had much to be proud of so far in its response, not least in its failure to supply - from a global inventory of 11,842 military helicopters - the 22 needed to make the peacekeeping mission there even partially effective. This is a free event as part of the Amnesty — ANU Law 2018 Speaker Series.

The Responsibility to Protect

The secretary-general is expected to release a report in June. A good part of the answer seems to lie in some serious misunderstandings which continue to exist about the intended scope and limits of the responsibility to protect norm. R2P's primary tools are persuasion and support, not military or other coercion.
