The broken cage has no more prevented the escape of its inhabitant, whose feathers lie on the pavement behind the wife, than the heavy door below has barred the entrance of death. News of Societies We do not wish this list to be anglocentric and welcome information about similar organisations in all countries. After a lingering illness he died on October 3, 1896, at his home, Kelmscott House in London.

The IAAH is also the representative association for art historians in Ireland and is responsible for the election of the Irish National Committee of the CIHA. It is in the engraving that the scene by the waters is infused with his present bitterness and despair. In L'Allegro, the engraved text has been replaced by black type; but each picture and the passage it interprets still appear on the same page.
