A subaltern's furlough; descriptive of scenes in various parts of the United States, upper and lower Canada, New

A Year's Residence in the United States of America. He had distinguished himself upon several occasions during the last war with the United States, and was a polished, well-informed man. It is, in fact, a house within a house.

Wood, who, weighing some four hundred pounds, and inconveniently broad across the shoulders and transom, made the coach every way uncomfortable. The trench-ant if malevolent Cobbett, glorying in a life of cheerful industry close to the soil, and representing America as neither a paradise nor yet a den of thieves but a good nurse for the farmer, did much in the third decade of the last century to stimulate emigration of a better sort from the mother country to the land of free endeavour.

Notes upon the Western Country.... The small manufacturing town of Manchester what a romantic name and what associations! Although we took our seats on a bench fastened to the wall, with the usual salutation, not she slightest notice was taken of us by any of the party, so intent were they upon the subject before them; nor was any offer made about partaking of their cheer, 0092 88 though we were drenched to the skin, and might reasonably be supposed to have no distaste for the good things we saw upon the table.

Travels and Adventures of James Champlin, who was Born Blind, with a Description of the Different Countries through which he Traveled in America.

Andrew Jackson/Quotes

The descent on the Canadian side of the river cannot be made, excepting for rafts of timber, and the only channel is by the terms of the treaty thrown entirely into the hands of the Americans, the islands being divided, by each power taking the alternate one; the island in this place lies between the Channel and the British shore. The Pioneers reflected his early experiences on the frontier; while The Last of the Mohicans deserves notice because it contains, in distinct types, both the idealized and the unidealized Indian that we have seen in the travellers.

Notes From a Period of Furlough

Lawrence, a mode of travelling we considered preferable to a 0059 55 heavy coach over a bad road.
