Lesseps, Ferdinand de 1805

Warning: In order to avoid any confusion and any possible controversy, we want to draw your attention upon the fact that this sample of celebrities is very complete and therefore, it also includes undesirable people, since every category is represented: beside artists, musicians, politicians, lawyers, professional soldiers, poets, writers, singers, explorers, scientists, academics, religious figures, saints, philosophers, sages, astrologers, mediums, sportsmen, chess champions, famous victims, historical characters, members of royal families, models, painters, sculptors, and comics authors or other actual celebrities, there are also famous murderers, tyrants and dictators, serial-killers, or other characters whose image is very negative, often rightly so. The expenditure for this item will be 1,603,200 Conduit Pipes.

Ferdinand de Lesseps

The completion of the railway, so useful to travellers, and so justly desired by England, will then become a necessity, and will no longer be a heavy charge upon the Egyptian Government.

Vicomte Ferdinand, de Lesseps Quotes

Linant Bey and Mougél Bey, within the mere limits indicated in this programme. Prince Metternich, who for more than twenty years has interested himself in the cutting of the Canal of the two Seas, and Baron de Bruck, one of the promoters of the investigations made in 1847, saw that in this question lay the aggrandizement of Trieste and of Venice, as well as the opening of important outlets for the produce of the Imperial provinces, and of the kingdom of Hungary, where the projected canal from the Danube to Kustendje, on the Black Sea, in the line of the ancient trench or rampart of Trajan, will facilitate exportation. It seems as if the ears of corn had an impulsive swiftness, which however does not exist, since they do not quit their places.

Astrology and natal chart of Ferdinand de Lesseps, born on 1805/11/19

The south wind usually succeeds the calm. It was invented by Alfred Witte, founder of the famous Hamburg School, and by his student, Friedrich Siegggrün.

Emmanuel Fremiet

In brief, a natal chart is composed of ten planets: two luminaries, the Sun and the Moon, three fast-moving or individual planets, Mercury, Venus and Mars, two slow-moving planets, Jupiter and Saturn, and three very slow-moving planets, Uranus, Neptune and Pluto. Herbs and aromatics: sorrels, spearmint, cloves. Ferdinand de Lesseps died on December 7, 1894 at Chateau de La Chesnaye in Guilly, Vatan, Indre.

Emmanuel Freniet

LINANT BEY AND MOUGEL BEY. The fellah of Egypt has alone constructed, under the direction of skilful and experienced engineers and foremen, all the extensive works undertaken in that country, and no nation can more easily, or on more favourable terms, furnish disciplined armies, of robust, active, and intelligent workmen, equally fit for the construction of canals, for hydraulic and for agricultural operations. The vessel he was sailing in was quarantined for some time and during this time he was sent several books by the consul-general of France at Alexandria.

Vicomte Ferdinand, de Lesseps Quotes

The Director of the Company shall be always appointed by the Egyptian Government, and selected, as far as practicable, from the shareholders most interested in the undertaking.
