Disability and Sports

This data is presented in two different tables.

Children and Young People Consultation

The power of sport as a transformative tool is of particular importance for women as women with disabilities often experience double discrimination on the basis of their gender and disability. Contribute to a safe and supportive environment 1. These skills can be transferred into other new arenas including employment and advocacy work further helping to build self-sufficiency.

Disability and Sports

Other responses did not strictly follow the structure of the consultation questions. Initial review of responses Arad first reviewed a sample of responses in an exploratory method. You said The Scottish Government made significant changes to the document to reflect the very rich and helpful responses to the consultation and the analysis of the information and comments we received.

Uniting the Movement

You should include documents that are part of the consultation as attachments eg the official government response and final impact assessment.
