EMPLOYMENT PROTECTION BILL (Hansard, 20 January 1978)

Finance capital... A True Story of A Young Miner in the 60s. An example of the healthy suspicion the EC had of its PC was revealed in 1973, when it had been proposed that non-contentious, but important PC items be reported generally to the League in the internal newsletter and that the subsequent EC raise any queries or concerns. Women, Socialism and Trade Unionism The feminist ideas of Mary Wollstonecraft had a greater influence in the radical and trade union movement of the postwar period than during her own lifetime.

» The Coventry Motor Industry: Birth to Renaissance

That may be of some help in mining and heavy process industries, though all the evidence is that even there the proposal may create as many anomalies as it removes. I am coming to the point with which the hon.

Orders of the Day — The Economy, Pay and 22 May 1979: House of Commons debates

The first three of these firms turned out some 1,000 to 1,500 vehicles a year. I have never promised that any policy advocated from these benches, or indeed from any other benches, would substantially reduce inflation at a stroke. The trade unions are finding that their usefulness to the bosses is declining, and their powerful position within the state apparatus is coming under attack.

The aim of this work is to study the development and adaptability of the Motor Machine Gun Brigade in the context of the entire war. She will point out how so and so, who served his apprenticeship in the same shop, is now well off, and steadily making a fortune; and she reminds her husband that, had he worked half as hard for himself as he has for others, he might also now be rich, and living in comfort without fear of the morrow. I believe that the Bill should so amend Section 12 3 of the Act as to provide that the conciliation period should not exceed four weeks.
