Woman battering: The response of the clergy

There are methodological weaknesses in the studies of the links between alcohol and violence, including lack of clear definitions of excessive alcohol use and a reliance on clinical samples with an absence of control samples. Men and women of different sexual orientations must be considered when forming harm reduction and treatment strategies.

Discovering Strengths and Competencies in Female Domestic Violence Survivors: An Application of Roberts' Continuum of the Duration and Severity of Woman Battering

Some judges blame victims; however, the authors of this entry have found no evidence to support the stereotype that most judges hold victims responsible for their abuse. How has that been helpful? Family violence research by concluded that most IPV perpetrated by women against men is not motivated by self-defense.
