Christianity in Bakhtin: God and the Exiled Author (Cambridge Studies in Russian Literature) by Ruth Coates (2005

Christopher Tollefsen is a Professor of Philosophy at the University of South Carolina. Having established the strong presence of a Christian framework in his early philosophical essays, Ruth Coates explores the way in which Christian motifs, though suppressed, continue to find expression in the work of Bakhtin's period of exile, and re-emerge in texts written during the time of his rehabilitation. Underlining, notes and markings in margins of pages throughout.

Christianity in Bakhtin: God and the Exiled Author by Ruth Coates (English) Hard 9780521572781

Having established the strong presence of a Christian framework in his early philosophical essays, Ruth Coates explores the way in which Christian motifs, though suppressed, continue to find expression in the work of Bakhtin's period of exile, and re-emerge in texts written during the time of his rehabilitation. This book is less about Dostoyevsky per se, rather a profound meditation on how Dostoyevsky's art exemplifies the central concern of Bakhtin, the concept of 'dialogism'. Christianity in Bakhtin for the first time fills this important gap.
