A good partner

Our logo represents the eternal quest of the enslaved of the world to be free. So why then would you accept the wild claim that 250,000 visitors annually will use a trail from Lake Placid to Tupper Lake? A burning lantern was a sign that they had arrived at a safe house. It has to do with the actual people who have ramrodded this issue just so they can have a free place to play while attempting to push legitimate business, and the established regulations governing the rail corridor within the Adirondack park, out the door.

NYSDOT Rail

Follow the North Star The North Country Underground Railroad Historical Association NCUGRHA researches, preserves and interprets the history of the Underground Railroad, slavery and abolition along the Upper Hudson River-Champlain and Canal-Lake Champlain corridor of northeast New York. And all the ATV riders who aren't willing to ride on the tracks illegally.

Rail vs Trail: Controversy in the Corridor

That is a long walk, perhaps a 12-hour day, but seriously, who will do this? The scheme to restore rail travel to Tupper Lake, but destroy all possibility of it between Tupper and Lake Placid, is, in my view, madness.

Railway Preservation News • View topic

This past weekend I went to Utica train station for the first time and a sign beside the tracks caught my eye.
