Journalism And Mass Communication Faculty Have Become More Diverse, Older, More Professional Analyses of data from the Annual Faculty Salary Survey conducted at the University of Georgia show that faculty members have become increasingly diverse in terms of gender, race and ethnicity, and older over the last 15 years, and have more average years of professional experience outside the university. You will also get the chance to practice these skills in a real-world environment when you complete an industry internship. A quick example would be an infographic, although data journalism can also be videos or immersive landing pages.
