Niger Takes Action to Reverse 50 Years of Food Insecurity

TAHA, with support from USAID-TAP, established a grower-owned freight consolidation company that facilitated shipments to Europe.

Head of Programming II, Niger

In doing this, the project is supporting new innovations.

Past Projects

Fintrac oversaw the technical implementation of horticulture and poultry activities for USAID-JBRP, which helped Jamaican agribusinesses recover from the impact of Hurricane Ivan and improve their growth beyond pre-hurricane levels. I also completed an analysis of the costs of monitoring, reporting and verification MRV of climate change mitigation in agriculture in all four countries. Interested consultants or consulting teams may submit questions about the TOR to LWR up until noon EST on July 22, 2016.

Youth Employment & Entrepreneurship Technical Advisor

Fintrac organized two highly successful conferences that focused on opportunities in fresh and processed fruits and vegetables and the use of botanicals in phytomedicines, pharmaceuticals, cosmetics, and dyes. USAID-RED transferred new technologies that increased the competitiveness of micro, small, and medium rural enterprises; boosted production and profitability; and expanded local and export sales.

Youth Employment & Entrepreneurship Technical Advisor

Food security analysis in the Sahel has for some time focused on the assessment of agricultural production; it is now time to devote more resources to analysing how markets contribute to the distribution and pricing of food; other supply sources, such as imports; demand factors; and policies, informal trade barriers and public interventions. This, in the context of market liberalisation, has obliged Sahelian households to rely increasingly on markets for their food security. The purpose of this facility is to provide technical assistance to agri and food related businesses that receive investment through the AAF, allowing them to create new opportunities for smallholder farmers, farmer business groups and rural communities.

The project plans to provide proven CSA approaches, tools, technologies and practices to promote CSA in Niger. Challenge The fertility rate in Niger is among the highest in Sub-Saharan Africa about seven births per woman. LWR will also pilot annual concerted household food and entrepreneurship planning to identify strategies to offset shocks for applicability in Niger and promote seasonal functional literacy training using new or existing village-level literacy agents.

TERMS OF REFERENCE (TOR): Gender Assessment and Planning

Why is market analysis important for food security assessments? Individual housing is available with freedom of movement beyond the house and office.

Rapid Results Initiatives in Niger: Advancing Women's Health Outcomes

During the COVID-19 crisis, the RRI dynamic has helped to ensure the continuity of essential basic services. TechnoServe is a US headquartered not-for-profit organization with over 40 years of experience catalysing private-sector led inclusive economic growth in Africa. Based on these positive performances, the Ministry of Health plans to extend the application of RRI to the remaining three regions and to the central level.
