Production inefficiencies often lead to a drop in customer fill rates, lost sales and customer dissatisfaction.

Relocating Facilities

The ERWI should also contain a detailed equipment list with all tag numbers, a drawing list and a list of available client documents. Few people relish the thought of moving.

Plant Engineering

The Sunrise Center renovation, for instance, has conducted a sustainable renovation in the hopes of earning LEED certification. It has many benefits in terms of image and making your company future proof, but sometimes a fit out or design would be just as effective.

Facility Location

Starting with the Executive Sponsor, seek engagement from representatives throughout the organisation.

Quality of Life Factors into Business Location Decision

Once you are able to answer the questions, communicate the answers through the appropriate channels. For instance, an entrepreneur must figure in the cost of business interruption. Therefore, for an organization it becomes important to have strategy formulated around its manufacturing unit.

Relocating Facilities

Others might expend two or three years in the process, with no better results.
