Incorporated association rules

It has to appoint qualified auditors, and audited accounts have to be presented to the Trust's AGM and to the Registrar.

Rules for an Unincorporated Association

This section considers the CCH model rules available and seeks to provide pointers towards which might be applicable for each set of circumstances.

Incorporated association rules

The Board is very glad, however, to receive assistance from all avenues and, accordingly, the membership will only be balloted in the event of there being more nominations than vacancies on the Board, including currently unfilled positions. However, if your rules have been amended to allow it, and you are allowed to become exempt under FCA Rules, the members, at your AGM, may vote to allow you to opt out of Full Audit for the subsequent year. Membership can be open to any person, corporate body or firm who is a supporter of the club, or has an interest in the game of football in the area, and who agrees to be bound by the rules of the Trust.
