Big Book of Bible Activities, Songs, and Rhymes for Early Childhood

Challoner's 1752 New Testament was extensively further revised by Bernard MacMahon in a series of Dublin editions from 1783 to 1810, for the most part adjusting the text away from agreement with that of the King James Version, and these various Dublin versions are the source of many, but not all, Challoner versions printed in the United States in the 19th century. Each story is about 10-12 pages long, which is told in rhyming verse. The book details a parade of animals and characters, including elephants, kings, and clowns.
