Build high-availability into your application architecture by co-locating your compute, storage, networking, and data resources within a zone and replicating in other zones. After your Outpost equipment is installed, the compute and storage capacity is available for you when you launch Amazon EC2 instances and create Amazon EBS volumes on your Outpost.

DNR Regions and Districts

For information about available Wavelength Zones, see in the AWS Wavelength Developer Guide.

Forest Service Regions

They are not designed to support Availability Zones although Azure conducts regular assessment of these regions to determine if they should become recommended regions. The AZ ID for each VPC and subnet is displayed in the Amazon VPC console.
